

Learning Fail2Ban

Fail2ban is a Python script that uses the GPL v2 license. It is a (filter) that (action) that can be used to block IP addresses (IP addresses) that are identified as being malicious. It can be used to block IP addresses that are identified as being malicious.

- It can be used to block IP addresses that are identified as being malicious.
- It can be used to block IP addresses that are identified as being malicious.
- It can be used to block IP addresses that are identified as being malicious. (e.g. apache, bind, postfix, vsftpd, proftpd...)

It can be used to block IP addresses that are identified as being malicious. It can be used to block IP addresses that are identified as being malicious. It can be used to block IP addresses that are identified as being malicious.

GitHub: <https://github.com/fail2ban/fail2ban>

Configuration

- Configure fail2ban to use route instead of iptables to block connections